A special despatch to the Richmond Dispatch, from Charlotte, N. C., says:

The attempt to burn the city to-day, during the holding of the mass meeting, which was addressed by Carl Schurz and other distinguished speakers, has been the subject of investigation by the municipal authorities this afternoon.

Gen. Young, the Mayor, informs me that it has been traced to a notorious Radical negro, who has since fled the town to avoid arrest. While General Schurz was speaking, this negro, who was the centre of a crowd of other negroes, was heard to exclaim, "I'll show them that I can shoot and burn, too, as well as the Ku Klux," and forthwith left the spot by a street leading to the house that was very soon afterwards in flames.

The house was fired in the attic, and in a manner that proved it to be evidently the work of an incendiary.

In addition to these facts, it has been reported to the Mayor that the negroes last night threatened that the meeting to-day should be broken up, and all the circumstances so far developed show that this was a premeditated, devilish outrage, which might have resulted in the destruction of the town, but for the prompt action of the people who rushed to their engines. The police are now on the track of the fiend, and it is hoped that he will be regularly tried and convicted and punished. This outrage is but carrying out the instructions of Joseph W. Holden, ex-Speaker of the State House of Representatives, who, on a former occasion, told them, "If you are without arms, you can use the torch!" It shows, too, that the Republicans are daily getting more lawless and intolerant.

The Livingstone letter to the New York Herald has a very humbuggous aspect. The feat of the Herald, if it is all a feat, is a great one; and it has won credit for having performed it. But we question whether the world is greatly benefited. Mr. Stanley found the Doctor, who had been absent ten years from home, and left him where he found him, with his "cock and a bull story," of the country and the people. If Livingstone wrote the letters in the Herald, he is a "gay and festive cuss;" if he didn't, there is a very huge "sell" perpetrated. On the whole, there is much question about Stanley and the letters, and more than all about Livingstone, who, we apprehend, is crazy about the Nyanzas, or something else, and will not throw much real light upon the sources of the Nile.

COLUMBIA, S. C., SATURDAY MORNING, AUGUST 3, 1872.

VOL. VIII—NO. 116.

A novel case was tried in New York the other day. It involved the right of a man to mortgage a cemetery lot, and the presiding judge held that such a transaction could not be considered legal, for the reason that when cemetery property has once been occupied by graves, it ceases to be regarded as a portion of the assets of the owner.

A French gardener finding a piece of woolen cloth, which the wind had lodged in a tree, covered with caterpillars, noted upon the idea suggested, and placed woolen rags in several trees. Every morning, he found them covered with caterpillars, which were removed.

William Hageman committed suicide, a few days since, in St. Louis, and word was sent to his wife that his body had been recovered, and she replied that he was a worthless fellow when alive and she did not want to see him.

A New York clergyman, having forgotten his notes the other Sunday, apologized to his congregation by saying that he would have to depend upon the Lord, that morning, for what he might say, but in the afternoon he would come better prepared.

Henry Haynes, of Old Lyme, Conn., is the father of twelve male children. He, himself, is the youngest of twelve children, his sister is the mother of twelve children, and also his aunt, and he is the happy uncle of 260 nephews and nieces.

A white man was recently fined three dollars by the mayor of Guke City, for saying to a youthful negro, "You infernal scamp, if you don't stop beating my hogs, I will whip you within an inch of your life."

A Leavenworth editor doesn't now spend time watching the little busy wasp that gathered lint in his sanctum to make its nest. He came in one day and did not observe that the wasp was sitting in his chair.

Civilization is still advancing at a headlong rate in Alabama, a party of gentlemen having signed a pledge not to use tobacco, in any shape or manner, during church service.

Kentucky sportsmen are using nitroglycerine to catch fish with. A pound of it exploded below water recently elevated eighty-six of the fluky tribe, weighing from a half to thirteen pounds each.

A dagger, with jewelled handle, worn in the belt, is considered by some ladies to be quite indispensable with a full toilette.

It is now asserted that the immense population of Pekin, the capital of China, is popular fallacy. Its population is only between 800,000 and 900,000 souls.

A great disaster recently occurred at Laporte, Ind. A number of persons were drowned, but we are happy to state that John Smith, who was in the boat, was rescued.

A large and varied lot of cards, suitable for weddings, invitations, visiting and business purposes, have just been received at this office, which, owing to the dull season, will be printed at very low rates.

CAMPAIGN NEWS.—The Presidential campaign is now upon us, and is destined to prove the most exciting and interesting one that we have had for many years. We are determined to furnish our readers with the fullest and freshest information from all quarters of the Union, as the campaign progresses, and to this end will increase the number of our news columns, so that the PHOENIX will contain for the campaign more reading matter than any daily paper at the capital, and as much as either of our Charleston contemporaries. To the citizens of the upper Counties of the State, the PHOENIX, as furnishing news twenty-four hours ahead of the Charleston newspapers, particularly addresses itself. All ye who feel an interest in the election of Greeley and Gratz Brown, and desire to know the correct status of the campaign as each new development is made, send in your subscriptions to the PHOENIX, either daily or tri-weekly. We promise you a lively, readable and reliable paper. Send for specimen copies.

Years and Neighs.—If horses could make themselves understood in human language, they would signify, by a universal "Yes," their assent to the statement that the Mustang Liniment is the best remedy extant for all these external ailments, and by a most emphatic "Neigh," show their displeasure at every attempt to use any other preparation in its stead. Ever since its introduction at St. Louis, at the close of the Mexican war, in 1849, it has proved a signal blessing to horse and man—curing, with absolute certainty and wonderful despatch, such equine diseases as spavin, ringbone, poll evil, scalds, hoof-ale, &c., and relieving and finally removing the painful affections which attack the muscles, sinews and external glands of human beings. It is a fact beyond contradiction that for all injuries or complaints of man or quadrupeds to which an external remedy is applicable, the MUSTANG LINIMENT is preferable to every other.

MILLVILLE, FLA., September 22, 1860.

Dr. Wm. H. Tuttle.
DEAR SIR: In my young days I was rather wild, and became the victim of a loathsome disease. I was treated by an eminent physician, and thought I was cured. After moving to this State, I was horrified at finding that the disease was making its appearance again, in a secondary form. Users formed in my mouth and on different parts of my body. I also became afflicted with severe Rheumatism. I employed different physicians, and used various patent medicines for months, all to no purpose. During a visit to Jacksonville I saw your Sarasparilla and Queen's Delight, and concluded to try it. I have taken a dozen bottles, and believe that the poison is entirely driven from my system. I intend continuing it, however, to make a sure thing of it. At the request of your Agent, I send this to you. You are at liberty to use it as you like. Yours respectfully, JOHN H. GUILFORD.

LIVER COMPLAINT and BILIOUSNESS.—Dr. Tuttle's Liver Pills exert a direct and powerful influence on the Liver, and with certainty relieve that important organ from disease, and restore its normal functions.
